13 Students To Receive Honor Key

Phi Beta Kappa
Honors 7 Seniors
And 6 Juniors

SEVEN SENIORS and six juniors have just been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor society in the liberal arts, it was announced today.

The seniors receiving this high honor are: Edgar Baker, Kay Bowen, Elsie Carper, Mrs. Marie Falk, Eleanor Sherburne, Anne Thomas, and John T. Wilson. The juniors are: Vernard Bond, Lillian Kolbey, Ellen Maki, Paul McClenon, Robert Morrison, and William Zeller.

Students must have a scholastic average between "A" and "B" to qualify for membership, but election to the society is not automatic. Not only high scholarship, but also "character, general promise, and scholarly ideals, as well as evidences of creative and original intelligence on a sound scholastic basis" are taken into consideration in election.

Care Taken In Selection

Faculty officers of the University group said that no chapter takes greater care in the selection of members of Phi Beta Kappa than the local one. The first step in the election procedure is the certification of grades by the Registrar. Then all members of the Faculty are asked to give confidential opinions as to the intellectual and personal qualities of those under consideration. The Faculty members of the chapter then elect on the basis of these recommendations.

ED BAKER, a senior in economics major, president of the Student Congress, Forensics delegate to the Student Council, and a member of the Student Life Committee.

VERNARD BOND is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and the Wesley Club and won the Beta Phi Alpha prize in zoology in 1939. ELEANOR SHERBURNE is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Delta, and Mortar Board. She has also been connected with the Food Drive and Cherry Blossom Drive and has managed various women's sports.

ELSIE CARPER, majoring in American Thought and Civilization, is President of Mortar Board, has been President of W.S.G.A., a varsity debater, and member of the Student Life Committee.

MRS. MARIE FALK has been active in the Literary Club. LILLIAN KOLBEY is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and the French Club.

ELLEN MAKI is a member of Delta Zeta and the Literary Club. PAUL MCCLONON is Student Comptroller and has been active in the Student Congress.

ROBERT MORRISON is an economics major, an assistant in political science, and holds a high school scholarship. SHERBURNE, Thomas Named

ELEANOR SHERBURNE is President of Panhellenic Council, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, W.A.A., W.S.G.A., Alpha Lambda Delta, and Mortar Board and was University Sweetheart in 1938.

ANNE THOMAS is editor of the Cherry Tree, vice president of W.S.G.A., and president of Delta Pi as well as a member of Mortar Board, Phi Delta Epsilon, and Delta. She is University Sweetheart this year. (See HONORS, Page 2)

Council Requests Activities' Budgets

THE STUDENT COUNCIL has requested that all student activities which receive financial support from the Council be prepared to submit detailed written estimates of their expenses for the next academic year.

Shortly after this week's elections, the retiring student body president and student comptroller will confer with representatives of the various activities, to draw up next year's activities budget.

Hatchet Elects Editorial Board For Next Year

Bers, Eastin and
Mahoney Serve
As Entire Board

MELVIN BERS, Roy Eastin, and Haynes Mahoney have been elected to serve on the Board of Editors of The Hatchet next year. The post of business manager will not be filled, but Aaron Layne will serve as advertising manager and head of the business staff.

Members of the retiring board are Ira Brown, Helen Carstarphen, Irwin Nathanson, Abe Simon and Bruce Skaggs. Miss Carstarphen, now managing editor, will continue on the Board until the end of the year.

Nominations Confirmed In order to become a member of the Board of Editors, one must have done two years of outstanding work on The Hatchet and must be of upper division standing in the University. Nominations are confirmed by the Publications Committee.

Melvin Bers will not take office officially until he obtains his Junior Certificate in June. He will be a junior in the University next year and is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honor society. He has served on the Junior Staff and Senior Staff, and been campus editor and news editor.

Eastin Past Editor Roy Eastin began reporting for The Hatchet in 1938 and served on the Board during the period of reorganization last year. He is part-time student, employed by the Government Printing Office.

Haynes Mahoney came to the University from the University of Florida, after serving on the Florida "Alligator" there. He began work on the sports staff and more recently served as society editor for The Hatchet.

Also elected to executive positions on the paper were Charles Daugherty as sports editor, Bill Umstead as campus editor, and Joe Stepanovich as picture editor. Mahoney will serve as feature editor and Bers will hold the post of news editor.

Naval Officer Will Offer Information

Lt. Commander Lewis H. Lee, U.S.N.R., a member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, will meet all students interested in gaining knowledge as to the opportunities offered college students at the Naval Aviation Base on Wednesday from 1 to 3 and 4:30 to 6 in Room 21 of Columbian Hall.

Glee Clubs Will Sing At Willard

Annual Dance,
Concert Will Be
Saturday Night

THE 22ND ANNUAL Concert and Dance of the George Washington Glee Clubs will be presented Saturday night at the Willard Hotel. The concert will start at 8:45.

A full program of music of the great composers will be presented by the men's club, by the women's club, and by the combined choruses, under the direction of Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Harmon.

This, the 17th concert under the direction of Dr. Harmon and the 11th concert of the combined clubs, will feature religious and patriotic numbers, and the 22 songs will be arranged in four groups.

The clubs have had a successful year, singing for the Pan American Union, for the Odd Fellows of America, with the Glee Clubs of Maryland University, and more recently on the night of the pageant of the 50th Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Sang At Festival

Most noteworthy of all, however, was the appearance of the organization at the last night of the Beethoven, Brahms, Schubert festival which closed the 10th season of the National Symphony Orchestra. Under the direction of Dr. Hans Kinder, the clubs sang three songs of Schubert, listed below in the fourth group of the concert, namely: "Onward, Ye Peoples," "Bells of Berghall," and the "Dear Land of Home" chorus from the tone poem, "Finlandia."

Prominent alumni and officials of the University, who will be patrons of the concert are: The President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, the President of the Board of Trustees and Mrs. Robert V. Fleming, Dr. Harry C. Davis, secretary of the board, and his sister, Miss Mollie E. Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John St. Clair Brooks, Jr., Mr. Theodore W. Noyes, Dr. and Mrs. Luther H. Reichelderfer, Justice (See HARMON LEADS, Page 4)

Magazine Gains Approval; Issue Appears May 15

THE PROCESS of adding another publication to the University's activities was well under way last week as the Publications Committee gave temporary approval to Helicon, the new literary magazine. Application for permanent approval will be made after the appearance of the first issue on May 15.

To put the first issue on a sound financial basis it was decided to use a readable double-spaced mimeographed format. Readability will also be aided by the inclusion of woodcuts and etchings. The issue will number from forty to fifty pages and will be enclosed in a printed hard-paper cover.

In a statement to The Hatchet, Albert Tate, editor, commented: "The Esar Art Club's collaboration is just one more evidence of a literary magazine's possibilities for this campus. The Literary and Art Clubs are attempting to bring out a good first issue. It is up to the campus to prove, by its support of this issue, that it wants a permanent magazine."

Political Chiefs Feel Confident As University Marches to Polls For Student Council Elections

Party Chieftains Issue Statements On Outcome

THROWING VERBAL barages at rival factions and crowning their group with the "halo of purity," opposing political chiefs issued the following statements last night to The Hatchet.

REFORM—"This party emphasizes participation of the entire student body in student government. In this regard we wish to point to our past record of successful administration of student government last year. We feel we have provided a government which is representative of the student body as a whole.

"For the coming year, both platform and slate point to a continuation of this policy. In contrast, we suggest an analysis of the record of the Service Party while in office two years ago, and also its present platform. We would like to point out the glittering generalities and vague promises which are apparent in it. We think we have full support of the student body, and fully expect to make a clean sweep of all offices."

SERVICE—"On the eve of this Student Council election of 1941, Service Party feels assured that the student body will recognize its merits of both platform and candidates and sweep the Service Party into power.

"Our campaign has been based on a reorganization of the student government. We believe that all students of the University who are seeking to better both the school and its student government will support the Service Party.

"We are confident of victory and we ask every student of the University to go to the polls Thursday and Friday and vote for better government."

"It is NOT going to be the policy of the Service Party to win the elections by foul means. We will win in and support an honest election, free from any grafting political ballot-stuffing."

"Service will give its full strength to bettering student government after its victory at the polls on Thursday and Friday."

MANN CHARGES VOTERS Outgoing Student Council president, Frank Mann, swept into office with the Reform Party last year, urged all students to "take advantage of their democratic privileges of voting" and participate in the election race.

"Without initial support of the students at the polls," Mann said, "there cannot be a full cooperative spirit evident when the winning factions takes over the reins of student government. Since this is your University, and the Council works for your betterment, every method possible for fullest success should be taken, and the first big step is to vote."

"And no matter who the winner may be," he concluded, "there should be no hard feelings after the results are announced."—BRYAN.

Debate Teams Hold Round 1 Of Intramurals

Second Contest
Will Take Place
Tomorrow Night

WINNERS in the first round of intramural debates, sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho fraternity and held Wednesday night in the Hall of Government, were sororities Delta Zeta and Sigma Kappa, and fraternities Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Phi Kappa Alpha.

A drawing immediately after the debates resulted in the following affirmative and negative lineup for the second round to be held tomorrow night at 8:15 in Govt-101: Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Phi Mu vs. Alpha Delta Pi; and Sigma Kappa vs. Delta Zeta.

The debates, held on the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Now Form a Permanent Union with Great Britain," were judged by Albert Atwood, Arthur Murphy, Edwin Cage, Ted Pierson, and Dix Price, all former varsity debaters and law school graduates.

The contest will be held each Wednesday for four weeks and will determine the championship fraternity and sorority teams. Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debate fraternity, annually gives a cup to the winners.

Silver Nitrate to Make Voters Either Honest or Limbless

Halley Scurlock Says Clean Election
Will Result After Application of Chemical

By BILL UMSTEAD

AS THE STUDENT Council election nears, campus political heads have started tearing their hair in search for a chemical which can find a chemical to remove silver nitrate from the epidermis. It's all because Halley Scurlock, head of the Elections committee, has decided that to insure an "honest" election each voter must be marked on the wrist with a touch of silver nitrate.

Council Postpones Interfraternity Sing For Indefinite Time

BY A VOTE of seven to five, the Interfraternity Council decided to postpone the Interfraternity Sing indefinitely. The chapters voting for the measure gave as their reason the fact that many of the members had too many other activities to devote the necessary time to prepare for the contest.

A member of the Council had proposed that the Sing be cancelled, and the Council had decided to put the question to a vote of the individual member chapters. The delegates brought in the negative answer.

Because an amendment to the Constitution of the Interfraternity Council, which states that the Sing be one of the annual activities of the Council, would be necessary to abolish the Sing, it was instead indefinitely postponed. Further action will have to be determined by next year's council.

The Council, had, prior to this, voted down the suggestion that non-participation in the Sing would make the non-participating chapter liable to a fine.

Saturday Is Army Day (Night) Here; Soldiers Sleep in Gym

IF AN UNKNOWN student had been passing by the gymnasium late Saturday night he might have wondered whether a military camp had been established at the University, or perhaps whether the Army was conducting a mock assault on the gym. At least he would have been surprised if he had waited around and seen some hundred soldiers filter into the building during the course of the night.

But actually, the story behind these strange goings-on is that the University has agreed to turn the gymnasium over on Saturday nights as emergency lodging for week-ending service men.

Welfare Director Robert E. Bondy, chairman of the Welfare and Consumer Interest Committee of the District Defense Council, made the announcement last week that Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the University, and Max Farrington, Athletic Director, had agreed to cooperate with the emergency lodging plans. The arrangements are being made by Maj. Charles Dodd of the Salvation Army, who heads the Lodging Subcommittee of Mr. Bondy's group.

The problem of securing clean, cheap housing facilities for the thousands of service men who are on liberty in Washington each Saturday night has become a serious one. Eventually the Defense Council hopes to have available all the gymnasiums of the Washington public schools, but so far the University gymnasium has been the only one obtained.

Saturday night some two hundred men slept in the 4-H Club tents at the monument grounds, and about one hundred slept, on folding cots set up there, in the University gymnasium.

For this privilege men were charged fifty cents each by the Welfare Commission.

The cots in the University gymnasium will be set up each Saturday night and taken down on Monday morning so as not to interfere with student activities.

Electorate Votes Thursday During Campus Polling

By BRUCE BRYAN,
Hatchet Political Writer

IN WHAT PROMISES to be a wide-open campaign—strangely lacking thus far in spectacular political moves—the University electorate, expected to be thirteen hundred strong, will march to the polls on Thursday and Friday to select its Student Council officers for next year.

At the same time, June graduates will vote for a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Senior Class.

Heading the Reform slate in the school government elections, Anne Blackstone will be battling to become the first woman president.

STUDENT ACTIVITY Books will be required for voting in the Student Council elections Thursday and Friday. As each voter casts his ballot, ticket No. 20 will be removed from his book. Also at the time of balloting, each student will be marked with a touch of silver nitrate to insure an "honest" election.

elect in campus political history. Opposing her for the number one position will be Joe Bob Gale, attempting to lead the Service Party to victory after an opposition triumph last year. Previously, the latter group had held the balance of power on the Student Council for three consecutive years.

In addition to the post of Chief Executive, nine other functional offices will be at stake. Publicity Hits Campus

As election eve draws near, campus political chiefs are working feverishly in last-minute efforts to corner votes for the annual contest. Both campus and Student Club are expected to be flooded with campaign literature, placards, and the air filled with impromptu political oratory outlining believed "merits" and promises of the rival factions, while sorority apartments and "smoke-filled" fraternity house rooms are scenes of final-hour strategy meetings.

Other officers to be elected, and party nominees for the posts, are: vice-president, Bud Carlson (R) and (See POLLS OPEN, Page 4)

Law Students Hear Roberts On Defense

Supreme Court
Justice Warns
Of Army Needs

"I AM afraid a good many of you will not be practicing law in the near future; you will be doing a better job in defense of your country," Justice Roberts of the Supreme Court told University law students at the annual spring banquet of Phi Delta Phi at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday night.

"I am sure that the attitude of you young men at G.W.U. is not that of so many throughout the nation—a crusty complacency with the call of the country," the jurist complimented the assembled students. "If you are called, I hope you will go willingly and do your best for your country," he continued.

Wilbur Schafsch, managing editor of the University Law Review, was presented the fraternity award for scholarship, and a silver loving cup, awarded by the chapter for scholarship among sophomores was presented to Thomas N. Dowd. Paul L. Henry, head of the chapter, was toastmaster.

Guests of honor at the banquet included: Jacob M. Lashly, president of the American Bar Association, Justice Justin Miller of the District Court of Appeals; Justice F. Dickinson Letts of District Court; Senator Adams of Colorado; William Rose, national president of Phi Delta Phi.

Draft Age Students Urged to See Deans

DRAFT AGE STUDENTS enrolled in the University are urged in a statement issued last night by Dean Johnstone to get in touch immediately with the dean of their College, School, or Division, at once regarding occupational deferment.

A complete story of the University's stand in this phase of Selective Service will appear in next week's Hatchet together with information regarding necessary action to be taken.

Government or a Farce It's Up to You!

● ANOTHER CAMPUS-WIDE election rolls around Thursday and Friday and another wave of "politicking" is already sweeping the campus. It is interesting to note the reaction this yearly phenomena stirs on campus. There are no halfway points in the attitudes of the students.

They either treat politics with complete indifference or light amusement, or—at the other extreme—they follow the voting with a rabid interest.

It is unfortunate that these latter extremists make up such a small part of the student body, and that their interests are based too often on loyalty to a fraternity brother or a sister who happens to be running.

Of course, when one takes an objective view of the election he might well have reason to be indifferent or amused. There is a good deal of farce and foolishness, worthless promises and propaganda, attached to it. The most powerful influence on voting in the long run seems to be the persuasion of some smiling sorority girl on a confused night school student who has just arrived to take one of his three hours of classes. Generally, there has been a wholesale stuffing of ballot boxes, which some party leaders feel is necessary for election.

No wonder then, under such conditions, that only some 1,200 students, out of 8,000, voted last year. Intelligent students might feel that it is not worth their while.

But there is another side to the question. Student government will never be worthwhile until the students support it—until student leaders feel themselves responsible to an interested student body.

Perhaps the students don't realize it, but the Student Council handles something like $20,000 of their money during the year. The potentialities of student government on this campus are almost unlimited; the forums, social programs, chapels, assemblies, organizations, and publications have hardly scratched the surface of their possibilities. If the students were united in supporting their student government, they would reap returns on their student activity fees that they yet have not imagined.

Anyone doubting the truth of this might investigate student government at other schools where three-fourths of the students vote, and each one considers himself a vital part of the democracy.

With real student interest backing the government, student leaders would take pains in how they operated the government, and what they promised constituents before election they would feel called upon to fulfill.

If University students support their government they will raise the standard of student leadership, they will make it an honor and a great responsibility to hold office, they will give themselves possibilities in education that they have not yet clearly understood.

Now is the time to begin real inquiries about the platforms and candidates of the parties in this race.

Every student on this campus who has any real feeling for this University and for his fellow students, will go to the polls Thursday and Friday and vote honestly and thoughtfully—and not on some sorority girl's smile.

A Dying Spirit?

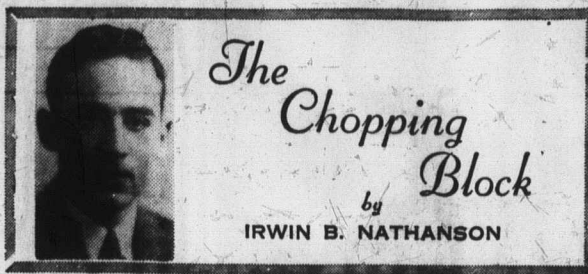

● AMONG THE MOST successful and the most effectively beautiful features of fraternity life at the University has been the Interfraternity Sing.

Thus we learn with some disappointment that the fraternities have voted not to participate in the songfest this year. This action was taken at Interfraternity Council meeting after individual fraternities had discussed in their chapter meetings the proposal to withdraw. Seven out of the twelve fraternities voted withdrawal.

Reasons were rather vague, but seemed to hinge mainly on the fact that men didn't have the time to take from their studies. So far, Panhel has made no statement as to what it intends to do about the situation. It is hoped that the girls will continue to sing as usual in order to keep the tradition alive. Perhaps next year fraternity men will have more time.

The Interfraternity Sing was the one activity that showed to the campus in general the strength, and brotherly spirit existing in fraternities.

It will be a loss to University life if this outward expression of fraternal spirit disappears.

● TWO WEEKS AGO we were detailed by The Hatchet Board to serve as their liaison man on the committee that's attempting to formulate an honor system, otherwise known as the Frank Ford Burnet Committee. At the time we were fresh, in a loose way of speaking, from a house-party week-end at the University of Virginia, and so were quite enthusiastic about the idea since we had just seen the system in flawless operation. However, as the sundry effects of the week-end wore off, we began to have our doubts. George Washington, shall we say, is in no danger of being mistaken for the University of Virginia—a situation which leaves us with no regrets, since we are quite sure that we would never crack a book if Thomas Jefferson had provided us with so many other things to occupy our time. That, in a nutshell, seems to be the attitude of the Virginia boys, too . . . and we can't say as we blame em.

Only One Bounce At Virginia. Down at Virginia they proceed on the assumption that every student is a gentleman until he proves himself otherwise. The system applies not only to exams, but to home assignments, elections, and everything else you can think of. A student has only to show false colors once, and once only, and he's given twenty-four hours to leave school. The system is enforced rigidly by a student committee which includes the top man from each of the divisions of the university, numbering about four in all.

We can't visualize anything like that at George Washington. And without a similar extreme penalty, administered solely by students, the system is a farce.

Crime Doesn't Pay. By way of further changing our mind, our fellow columnist, Mr. Berdick, recalled to our attention an unforgettable incident that occurred two years ago, when we were content with just selling advertising. Seems as though the aforementioned Brother Berdick and we were enrolled in a course wherein the professor specialized in giving short answers to exams. In one of these exams a simple enough question was posed, to which the answer was "brass." Unfortunately, some near-sighted individual in the front row incorrectly read his neighbor's answer as "glass" . . . unfortunately, also, "glass" just didn't make sense . . . so you can imagine the professor's astonishment when he discovered that almost one half the class had given a perfectly ridiculous and identical answer to question No. 3! In all fairness to Mr. Berdick, we wish to state that he answered "brass."

It doesn't add up s' help us. Bob Geran just asked us not to mention how crummy it was of the Interfraternity Council to cancel the annual Interfraternity Sing, so we won't.

Our Man just popped in again to pass on a red hot tip to any interested politicians. He says he has it straight from the photographer of a local newspaper that sodium hypophosphite, fixing solution, to you, will remove silver nitrate stains. We pass it on for what it's worth, and refer all complaints to Our Man.

Prediction. We understand that it's the thing for columnists to crawl out on a limb every so often, so here goes. For the Senior Class offices we predict Burnett, Thomas, and maybe the weary, since the presidency is due for photo finish.

Nationalism—A Blasphemy!

● DR. WILLIAM R. BARNHART, Executive Secretary of the Washington Federation of Churches, was the speaker Friday at the Annual Spring Fellowship, sponsored by the Council of Religious Organizations and the religious organizations of the University. The topic was "Ideals for a Changing Civilization."

The first World War, the depression of 1929, and a new realistic theology are responsible for a new outlook and a different standard of values than those of the 1920's.

Among the ideals needed for a better world is a "love of new truth" in the fields of religion and social science. The leadership of these fields by men who look backward rather than forward is responsible for the discrepancy between the advances of science and those of religion and the social sciences, Dr. Barnhart said.

"Social individualism" and "solidarity of the human family" are present day necessities. "Nationalism as we know it is blasphemy in the sight of God. Christianity should not be nationalized; nations should be christianized." Personalities and not things should be the goals of civilization. "Men should be treated as ends, not means or opportunities."

"In modern terminology, the Kingdom of God is a democracy where there are equal rights for all." These rights include the right to play, the right to an education, and the right to work.

"Supremacy of the spiritual rather than the material should be a model ideal." Dr. Barnhart quoted Professor Jeans, the great English physicist who said, "The more we know of this world, the more it resembles not a great machine, but a great thought."

Seruch Kimble, president of the Westminster Club, presided at the Fellowship and Haley Scurluck, former president of the Baptist Student Union, made the opening remarks.

John Doukas Wins Oratorical Contest By Audience Vote

● JOHN DOUKAS, speaking on "The Greatness of Winston Churchill," won the Phi Sigma Kappa sponsored Annual Freshman Oratorical contest, held at the fraternity house Friday evening, and carried away the silver cup presented by the Phi Sigs.

Ruben B. Klammer, whose subject was "The Trade Barriers Between the States," and Robert D. Lyons, who spoke on "The Unusual Circumstances Surrounding the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln," won second and third place respectively.

The winners were chosen by an audience ballot among the fraternity members.

Robert B. Mason spoke on "Crime—A True Problem To Society," and Patricia Coughenour spoke on "Zee Spus American Way."

University Needs Applicants for Job Open Thru Bureau

● JOBS! JOBS! JOBS! The University Employment Bureau is swimming in jobs and finds a serious lack of applicants.

If you're an ambitious young man you may be able to obtain a position as checking a cafeteria line, night clerk, a page, a playground leader, a gas station attendant, a custard server, or a mother's helper.

Girls, too, are in demand. A position as airplane hostess is open (and it's not necessary to be a trained nurse!) Young ladies wishing to be stenographers, on a part-time basis, need not be experienced.

All of the co-eds who graduated in February are now employed, and it is presumed that the fellows have kept pace with them.

If you want opportunity, knock on the door of Mrs. Winnie Barrow's office, second floor, Columbian House.

Symphony Club Presents Concert

● THE NEWLY FORMED Symphony Club is presenting Lillian Conn and Elma Gillespie in a joint concert Thursday evening at 8:30 at the home of Jerry Rosey, 2839 28th Street N.W. The concert will be preceded by a short business meeting at which officers will be elected.

Miss Conn, a coloratura soprano, will include in her program the "Belle Song," the "Rose and the Nightingale" and "Berceuse" from Jocelyn. Among the selections which Miss Gillespie has chosen for the evening's presentation are the Bach-Liszt "Fantasy and Fugue in G Minor," the "Wallenstein Sonata" (opus 53) and a modern suite by a local composer, Everett Stevens.

NOTES from an Editor's Desk

Note: Following is the third and concluding installment of a series of articles on prominent campus figures who have either made deep impressions on campus by their own efforts and/or are examples of particular types of men and women found in schools and colleges today.

By BRUCE SKAGGS

● POLICEMAN, chef, night-club owner and manager, orchestra soloist, drummer and leader, Capitol guide, song-writer and play director—that sounds like an employment bureau's monthly worksheet. But it is actually a list of the some-time vocations of Floyd Sparks, University graduate of 1935, currently finishing his third year as Cue and Curtin graduate director.

Though his major was in Foreign Service, Sparks has not followed up that line, except inasmuch as diplomacy is a handy stock-in-trade in handling irate customers, drunks and temperamental actresses in nightclubs, police beats and theatres, respectively.

His importance on the campus scene does not, however, appear directly from his record, especially as Director of Cue and Curtin. For his relationship there has been vastly greater than what Equity lists as a director's range of duties.

It was only a couple years or so that the local drama group began a steady rise in prestige and productivity. That rise dates directly from the meeting in which Sparks got up to give a little speech. Cue and Curtin had fallen on evil days. Campus politics furnished all the motive power, not play production. A fine row was in the air; finances were low; members were bitter.

Then came an ultimatum—spoken very quietly—dangerously so. Either Cue and Curtin quit these monkeyshines and got to work on some plays, or it could do without the services of its then volunteer director, who incidentally was the only qualified person even remotely available for the job. His words took, and since then Cue and Curtin's stock has been steadily rising.

Sparks' work as director has been phenomenal. It has resulted more often than not in an 18-hour day during production. Those connected with the organization well know that, except for him, it would elbowed its way in the very small-potato class indeed.

Though there are many candidates, and some may disagree as to objectives concerned, it is this writer's opinion that, for constructive service to University activities by any of its present or past students, number one ranking should go to Floyd Sparks.

The author of the expression, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," undoubtedly had in mind the little-miss-efficiency type of girl that crops up in almost every campus organization. As an example on this campus we give you Jane McGraw, Pi Phi president, vice-president of the W.S.G.A., and sometime Mortar Board, Cue and Curtin and Cherry Tree member and officer.

One might describe Jane as a good-looking little girl, with small, alert features and a perpetually busy manner. A prominent characteristic is that usually, in conversation with someone else, the other person does most of the talking, trying to make an impression. That characteristic is very good business psychology; it undoubtedly has contributed to her success in achieving campus prominence.

As to the direction of her energies—generally speaking, it has been in the direction of encouraging greater day-school participation in campus life. Witness the present May Day program contemplated by W.S.G.A., which, if successful, Jane will consider her crowning accomplishment on campus.

There are many others who have made more specialized contributions to campus activities, but few if any who have had a comprehensive and varied participation in extra-curricular activities. We present her as one of that group of coeds who combine the velvet surface and the grimly efficient interior.

Space limitations prevent descriptions of others who space out the campus population mosaic—such as Bob Geran and his irrepressible grin and passion for introductions; Ward McCabe, promoter, socialite and contact man extraordinary; Peggy Kinsman, physical grace in active sports at its perfection; Blake Erlich, the eccentric-intellectual type; or the two Council candidates, Ann Blackstone of the hale-and hearty greetings and Joe Bob Gale with his boyish, slightly embarrassed manner; or many many others with distinguishing characteristics.

All of us have a relatively short time in the University, but our lives are oftentimes strongly affected by it, and by the people we meet there. This series has tried to sharpen the focus on a few typical or outstanding examples, that those on campus may be more keenly aware of their contemporaries, and that, to paraphrase prophets may have honor in their own country as well.

Buff Nine Captures Three Games In Best Week

Hoyas Rout Amendola, Score 10-5

Team Beats Virginia, Penn State, Terps; Klok Stars in Relief

• VICTORIES over Penn State, Maryland and Virginia and a defeat at the hands of Georgetown make the record three out of four for the Colonial nine for the past week. A home game with Richmond in the Stadium yesterday (see story on page 3), and road games with Western Maryland on Friday and Richmond on Monday are expected to push the Buff and Blue win total still higher, if the pitching holds out.

Eddie Amendola hurled the 12-9 victory over the Nittany Lions, and Colonial batters forgot the "hitless wonders" title and rapped out three home runs, two of them with men on base. Though Amendola struck out only three men, handed out nine passes to first, and the team was charged with three infield errors, the George Washington congregation left the State College victorious. Fourteen hits were rapped off the offerings of three Penn State pitchers.

Amendola Wins

Returning to Griffith Stadium on Wednesday, Amendola retreated to right field and Frank McGinnis took over his duties on the mound and turned in his finest effort since he beat Harvard 1-0. Locked in a pitchers' duel with Terp Bob Smith, McGinnis survived a last inning uprising to emerge with a five-hit job and a 7-1 victory to his credit.

Amendola, with three hits and two runs, was the offensive star for the Colonials, followed closely by Lenny Sokol, whose sensational catch of DuVall's smash in the ninth inning robbed Maryland of at least one, and possibly more, runs. Jack Redinger personally saw to it that the Colonials' modest winning streak reached the three game point, when he beat Bill Harman and the Virginia Cavaliers in Charlottesville Thursday. For Redinger, it was his finest game, and not only did he limit the Virginians to six hits, but he also poled out a homer and single to clinch matters.

Picco Hits Homer

The Georgetown game was a different story. Eddie Amendola, supposedly on the ailing list along with Bobby Gilham, was thrown into the game in a gallant but futile effort by Coach Morris to stem the Hoyas who won, 10-5. Working deliberately Eddie retired the side in the first inning, with nothing across, but he ran into trouble in the second, and was routed in the third. Johnny Picco's tremendous hit to deepest center in the first inning with George Oertel and Len Sokol adgingt anxiously on the bases, provided the Buff a welcome but short-lived lead, as the Hoyas pushed home five runs in the third to put the game beyond recall. "Red" Klok, husky Sophomore right hander, was rushed into the breach, and so well did he perform that it looks as if Coach Ed Morris has another starting hurler. Klok gave up but eight hits during his seven inning chore, and he scattered these well, for only in one inning, the seventh did the Hoyas get to him effectively.

Woman Canoeists Paddle to Seneca Without Any Spills

• LEAVING THE LANDLOCKED waters of the Tidal Basin for the first time, coed paddlers turned the prows of their canoes toward Seneca, and got there and back all on the same Saturday. Head navigator on the voyage up the scenic canal was canoeing manager Joan Giles, whose log contains a lot of headaches but no upsets. Not only did the coeds manage to keep from dunking themselves in the canal but they had a good time in the bargain. It is rumored that future naval affairs may be coeducational, and senior life savers are preferred, especially those who do not rock the boat.

A Canoeing Regatta will be staged at the home port on the Tidal Basin Wednesday, May 14 from 2:30 to 4:30. Those slender misses dip a mean paddle, and all interested are invited to view this last event of the canoeing season.

Krupa's Spring Intramural Program Includes Swimming, Track Meets

• JOE KRUPA'S spring intramural program gets into high gear again this week, with competitors being lined up for swimming and track meets, and with softball, golf, and tennis already under way.

The intramural swimming and diving meet will be held in the Y.M.C.A. pool at 18th and G Streets N.W. at 2 p.m. A full program is planned including 50 yard free style, 100 yard free style, 50 yard breast stroke, 50 yard back stroke, and fancy diving. Medals are on display in the Student Club and equipment and lockers will be furnished free of charge at the "Y."

Not satisfied with introducing once again this long-neglected sport, swimming, to the University, Krupa will blossom forth with a sport that has been conspicuous with its absence from this campus—track. No fooling. Western High

HE HIT THE NEXT ONE—Jimmie Dowd, the Colonial catcher, lets one go by in the last of the ninth. He met the next one and a pop fly to the third baseman was the result. The expectant Georgetown catcher is Jim Castiglia.

Please note the packed stands and see if you can find yourself in that invisible crowd that cheered so hard they couldn't hear themselves.

Richmond Tops Colonials, 6-4, In Overtime

Two Run Rally in 10th Sinks Buff; Spider Hurler Goes Route

• COMBINING SEVENTEEN base hits with the air-tight pitching of Jack Butcher, the Richmond Spiders triumphed yesterday, 6-4, over the Buff on the East Ellipse.

The Colonials made a valiant effort to win the game in the ninth inning, when Jack Fitzgerald hit a long single to center field, and was replaced on first by Zip Zimmerman when an old leg injury gave him trouble. Amendola, batting for Lusby, struck out, and at the same time, Zimmerman stole second. Then with Jimmy Dowd at the plate, Zip stole third, and he might have continued on home had not Dowd punched a double into left field. This run tied the score at 4-4, and sent the game into extra innings as Konizewski grounded out, second to first.

In the tenth inning, Yoolard, leading off, flied to McNeill, but Catcher Mack, who followed him, hit a single. Pitt also singled, sending Mack to third. Miller hit a scorcher to Jack Redinger, who had relieved McGinnis, and was out. Then, Locke socked a double, scoring Pitt and Mack. That was the ball game.

Roy McNeill was the offensive star for the Buff with two of the seven safeties that Coach Morris's men were able to get off Butcher. Oertel, Lenny Sokol, Jack Fitzgerald, Jimmy Dowd and Frank McGinnis each got a hit apiece.

Wholley and Humbert, with three hits each, led the Spider's attack. Miller, with a double, and Pitt, Mack, and Philpott, each with two hits, also starred for Richmond.

Butcher's fast curve had the Colonials hitters helpless during much of the game. Once in a while he was in deep water, but most of the time, he was able to write his own ticket. McGinnis, although hit rather freely, tightened up well in the pinches, and allowed only four runs on fourteen hits in nine innings of play.

The Colonials thus absorbed their sixth defeat of the year, against seven wins, for an average of .538, but they are looking forward for a chance at revenge when they tangle again with the Spiders a little later in the season. Altogether, the scene is far from dark as the season enters its final stages.

Have You Social Ambitions? Ball Fans Are Select Group

By CATHY MOORE

• IT ISN'T EVERY DAY you can walk into your five o'clock class at five minutes of six and be cordially greeted by your prof—but Dr. Jarman is different.

Dr. Jarman is a member of G. W.'s athletic council and is one of those rare individuals—of either student body or faculty—who is an interested follower of varsity baseball. If the game isn't over when the Doctor has to leave to meet his secondary ed. class at five, all later bulletins are greatly appreciated. "What's the score?" is the only question asked a late-comer.

This is not the only incentive for university students to attend the ball games. In the first place, you will be one of a very select group of people. In the second place, you may soak up a little sun—or shade if you prefer. In the third place, you might possibly enjoy yourself. Clark Griffith Attends

The Hoyas-Colonial game on Saturday is a case in point. Coming after a three-game winning streak, the game was very poorly attended. Clark Griffith, a handful of G. W. rooters, two handfuls of Georgetown rooters and three handfuls of animated inkspots were lost in the labyrinth of Griffith Stadium. And most of the G. W. rooters were room-mates of the ball players.

It was a good game with its share of tense moments. Oertel stole second on a breathtaking double-swing that only halfway worked. Lusby drew the play on himself and then scooted back to third while Oertel took second.

Bobby Gilham Returns
Roy McNeill almost got beamed by a foul off the stands near first base. Bobby Gilham returned to the diamond for the first time since sustaining a spike wound, and Joey Gallagher champed at the bit in the stands with a bad toe. Batters flung their bats in fits of temper when the third strike was called—everyone else ate peanuts and had a wonderful time—except the newspaper reporter who couldn't spell Konizewski. (Ed's note: Can you?)

Come out and try it some time. They can find another fourth for that table of bridge—or, better yet—bring the other three along with you.

Coed Natators Vie In Inter-Class Meet Today at Y.W.C.A.

• THREE COED class teams will compete at the Y.W.C.A. the first class swimming meet tonight at 8. The juniors and seniors have combined to form one team which will swim against the representatives from the sophomore and freshman classes. Not more than two girls from any team will be eligible to compete in each event.

Outstanding aquatic performers for the junior-senior combination is Marianna Trowbridge, varsity basketball star and past golf manager. Phyllis Botta and Anne Davis will uphold sophomore laurels.

Four coeds from each team will swim in the free style relays. Divers will be required to execute three dives, a running front or swan and two optional dives. Other events are a 40-yard free style, 40 yd. breast stroke, 40 yd. back stroke and 80 yd. free style.

Swimming Manager Mary Louise Marron will be in charge of the meet assisted by class managers, Janet Lerch, Margery Birch, Marianna Trowbridge, Betty Campbell, Dot Farwell, Phyllis Botta and Betty McCrahen.

Four Cheerleaders Receive Sweaters

• FOUR MEMBERS of the squad of cheer leaders will receive sweaters in recognition of three years of service. The sweaters will be delivered in the near future. On Thursday, May 13th, there will be a meeting of the cheer leaders, at which time they will turn in their uniforms, and a list of recommendations will be drawn up for presentation to The Hatchet, the Student Council and the President of the University. Incorporated in these recommendations will be proposed plans for next year's activities.

SAE-Sig Ep Tussle Looms As Greek Ball Nears Climax

Brugge Pitches as KA's Wallop Deltis To Hold League "A" Lead; Pi KA's Win

• POSSIBLY THEY were ashamed of the size of the scores of last week, or it may have been something else, but at any rate, the Greek softball players toned down their scoring somewhat last Sunday morning.

In League A, poor befuddled League A, Kappa Sigma and Pi Kappa Alpha, more or less pre-season favorites, have been forced to take a back seat to the up-and-coming teams of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. SPE continued their undefeated streak by another decisive win. This time their victim was Delta Tau Delta by the score of 24 to 8. The SPE's have scored something like 60 runs in their three games. In a game that was closer than the score indicates, SAE defeated Kappa Sigma, 15 to 11. Kappa Sigma stayed in the game until near the end, but were forced to bow to a late SAE rally. In the other game in League A, PIKA finally won their first game of the year as they defeated Sigma Chi by the score of 8 to 7. This was a close game all of the way. Sam Babich was the winning pitcher, while Dale Bearss pitched for the losers.

Confusion also reigned in League B, as only one official game was played Sunday morning. That game between Kappa Alpha and Sigma Nu was won by KA by the score of 21 to 8. Howard Voden Brugge pitched for the winners. Theta Delta Chi was forced to forfeit their game to Phi Sigma Kappa because of suspension from the Interfraternity Council, but to keep the boys in shape, both teams made an appearance Sunday and played a regular game, with Phi Sigma Kappa winning by the score of 14 to 13. The Theta Deltis led all of the way in this game, only to lose as the Phi Sigs put together an eight-run rally in the last two innings, while their opponents could get only one run. The eight-run rally was featured by three Phi Sig home runs. The other game in League B between Tau Kappa Epsilon and Acacia was postponed until next Saturday upon agreement between the two fraternities.

Next week's feature game will probably decide the championship of League A. This is the game between the two league leading teams, SPE and SAE. All indications are that SAE will have to turn on all of their score-making machines to stop the victory-mad Sig Eps.

Parsons, Al Seidler Win Rifle Match

• FRANK PARSONS, Coach of Men's Rifle team placed first in the D. C. Individual Championship last week with a three position score of 280 out of a possible 300. Al Seidler of the Men's varsity rifle team took third place with a score of 278.

Parsons 280 was divided with 89 out of a possible 100 in the standing position, 86 kneeling, and 95 prone. His only remark was a mild grumble that he was not satisfied with his score.

Sororities Receive Cups, Delphi Taps Panhel Prom Again Makes History

Tommy Tucker Beats it Out For Frolickers

THE ANNUAL Panhellenic Prom heralded the month of May, as sorority girls danced and capered, Thursday night, in the new ballroom at the Shoreham.

Tommy Tucker's orchestra rapped out rhythm in such a novel manner that most guests were content to stand and listen rather than dance. The male guests, in particular, were content to watch Amy Alnell, vivacious songstress with Tucker's orchestra. Interesting feature of the Prom was the dance program which facilitated trade dances and kept everyone happy.

Climax of the Prom was the award of cups by Louise Alden, social chairman of Panhellenic, and tapping for Delphi, by Ruth Brunner, president of the honorary sorority.

Cups were presented to: Pi Beta Phi, for winning the intra-mural bridge tournament, deck tennis, and volleyball tournaments; to Sigma Kappa for the bowling tournament; to Chi Omega for ping-pong, doubles and singles; to Zeta Tau Alpha for badminton; to Delta Zeta for selling most Cherry Trees. Kappa Kappa Gamma received the cup for highest scholarship rating, and Kappa Delta pledged received a cup for highest pledge scholarship.

Tapped for Delphi were: Alpha Delta Pi; Joan Giles and Kathleen Norris; Chi Omega; Doris Little; Delta Zeta; Paulette Montesi and Marjorie Wilkins; Kappa Delta; Helen Duckson; Kappa Kappa Gamma; Elaine Berry and Ruth Crouch; Phi Mu; Florida Franklin, Agnes Rossbacher; Pi Beta Phi; Margaret Copeland; Sigma Kappa; Dorothy Farwell, Louise Stuart; Zeta Tau Alpha; Frances Douglas and Shirley Schafer.

Summer School Offers Shorthand, Typing Courses

DR. MITCHELL DREESE, professor of Educational Psychology and dean of the Summer Sessions, announced that Secretarial courses will be offered to summer school students if sufficient interest is shown in them.

Classes under consideration are elementary typing and elementary shorthand. The typing course offers three credit hours each semester and the shorthand course five credit hours each semester.

Miss Kirk Weds Paul McGillicuddy

DURING EASTER vacation at Prince Edward Island, Miss Elizabeth Kirk of the G. W. faculty, was married to Paul McGillicuddy, of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Lela Hatchett's engagement to Benjamin Catchings was announced Sunday. Both of them attended G. W. where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority and he was a Theta Delta Chi. The marriage will take place late in the summer. Mary Hamner, Chi Omega, will be married in the summer to Ensign James Baughman. Miss Pat Horne and Frank Mann have selected June 12 as their wedding date. They will be married at 5 P. M. at the Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral. Mrs. James Sullivan will act as matron of honor and Misses Marjorie Manning, Louise Mann, and Marcia Guest will be the bridesmaids.

Miss Ruth Atwell Returns from Two Athletic Meets

MISS RUTH H. ATWELL, Executive Director of the Physical Education Department for Women, has returned from a week of conventioning at Atlantic City, where she attended two conventions relating to women's athletics. As chairman of the National Section on Women's Athletics of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Miss Atwell attended the convention of last week to Saturday. In her position as chairman of the National Section on Women's Athletics, Miss Atwell presided at many of the meetings including the Legislative Board meeting, the 40th Anniversary Luncheon of the AAHPER, and the General Session of the National Section. Much of the discussion of the convention centered around the relation of the groups activities to defense. An outstanding event of the program was the tennis clinic and exhibition game by Alice Marble, Mary Hartwick, Don Budge and John Nogrady, tennis notables.

Gate and Key Has Initiation Tonight

THIRTY MEN will be initiated into Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity organization, tonight at the Harrington Hotel. Following the induction ceremonies a banquet will be held in their honor at the hotel. This is the twentieth year that Gate and Key has tapped outstanding fraternity men to their body. This year Professor DeWitt Bennett, head of the Student Life Committee and professor of public speaking, was made an honorary member.

Husic Will Head Newman Club

NEWMAN CLUB officers for the coming year elected at a recent meeting are: William Husic, president; Alfred Pascal, vice-president; Mary Findlay, treasurer; Margaret Mattingly, recording secretary; Joseph Dechert, corresponding secretary; George Petretie, sergeant-at-arms, and Phyllis Magoto, historian.

Election Returns At Buff 'n Blue

CLIMAXING a record-breaking year, Buff 'n Blue will hold its fifth program, Friday night in the Student Club. Beside the regular card of entertainment headed by a master of ceremonies, the highlight of the evening will be the announcement of election returns. The price is 75 cents and reservations should be made early.

Polls Open Thursday for Council Vote

Eleanor Sholtes (R) and Herzmark Sauer (S) will oppose for the post of program director. Climaxing the two-day voting, an "election" Buff'n Blue will be held in the Student Club on Friday night. With powers of both parties expected to be present, final election returns will be announced between 11:30 p. m. and midnight.

Holding the number of polling places to a minimum, Haley Scurlock has announced that two ballot boxes will be set up one in the Student Club and Medical School. Voting hours will be 8:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. on both days. Scurlock, Student Council Advocate and Elections Chairman, charged with proper conduct of voting, has set up the following procedure in an attempt to assure an "honest" election:

Voters must submit Activity Books with Ticket Number 20 signed. When this is removed by poll caretakers, a ballot will be given the Student, and marked in a private booth. Before placing the sheet in the ballot box, the voter will be stamped on the inner wrist with a weak solution of silver nitrate as a means of further identification, and to prevent multiple voting.

Urging that rival party chiefs "cooperate in every possible way to assure a straight election," Scurlock stated that violations of the regulations set forth or any infractions of the Election rules as published in The Hatchet of April 23 will result in "necessary" action being taken, and that the Committee will deal "severely" with violators to the fullest extent of its powers, and against both individuals and parties.

Pre-election estimates of 1,300 voters are based on the number of votes cast last year, plus party chiefs' predictions of "increased interest" of the Student Body.
